

THE KING TO GO TO MARIENBAD

In August—Kaiser To Go To England In November—Movements Of Sovereigns

New York, June 30.—A special cable from the London correspondent of the New York Herald today says: "It is settled that King Edward will go to Marienbad, in August. I am told that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the prime minister, will go to the same resort at the same time. There is to be a private conference between the King and Emperor Francis Joseph, but the rumor of a general meeting of monarchs under the aegis of the Vatican. The sovereign has no foundation. The question whether King Edward will take time to visit certain European capitals is much canvassed in court circles, but there is every likelihood that Queen Alexandra will cruise in home waters and visit Beside before crossing to Copenhagen in September.

The Future of Balmoral.
Talking about Balmoral, there is some talk in court circles as to the future of Balmoral. It is a well-known fact that the King has not the time for his Highland home as he has Queen Victoria and this has naturally led to expectations that His Majesty will sell the estate. At present the house is shut, with only a small number of servants. Rumor has it that the intention of turning the place into a sanatorium, but it is understood that the idea has been abandoned lately. However, the King had several vaults of furniture and ornaments, the property of the late Queen, removed from Balmoral to Windsor Castle, which may be taken to give color to the story that His Majesty will ultimately sell the castle.

Kaiser to Visit King.
Reference has already been made to the difficulties in the way of Emperor William carrying out his desire, expressed some time ago, to visit the Kaiser this year, but I have now received most positive information that the Kaiser will visit King Edward at Windsor toward the end of the year, thus bringing a year, notable for the number of royal visits, to a brilliant end.
Emperor William is expected toward the middle of November, when the King and Queen will, as usual, be in residence at Windsor Castle, but the visit will be brief and less than previously announced. The Kaiser will be invited to lunch with the King and Queen, and as his visit is a state one, it may be expected that the invitation will be accepted. Nothing has been yet settled as to the details of the visit, but I understand the King will take every opportunity to make it a most agreeable affair to his nephew. Not only will family differences be removed, but the King will bring his great gifts of tactfulness and diplomacy into service, so as to make the visit direct inauguration of better relations between the two countries. The usual methods for doing honor to illustrious visitors, a naval review at Spithead, a military review at Aldershot, a peacot through the streets of London and an array of imposing social functions will be utilized to this great end.

Will Visit Denmark, too.
The Emperor and Empress of Germany will visit the King and Queen of Denmark at Copenhagen on July 3rd. It is rumored in Danish circles that the Emperor's third son, Prince Adolf, is engaged to Princess Thira, the second daughter of King Frederick. An interesting ceremony, planned for July 4th, is the dedication at the John Harvard memorial chapel in St. David's church, at Southwark, England, where the body of his father, which was taken last September, was undertaken by Harvard graduates, who raised $12,000 for the purpose.

The 100th anniversary of the birth of Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Italian liberator, will be celebrated throughout Italy on July 4th. Parliament has passed a bill making Garibaldi Day a national holiday, and the government has appropriated $200,000 for distribution among the patriots' collectors, who are in receipt of the money.

NEW U. S. IMMIGRATION LAWS.

Go Into Force Today. Provide Many Restrictions.
New York, June 30.—The new immigration laws placing numerous restrictions upon the entry of foreigners, will go into effect Monday. The most important changes brought about by the acts, which Congress passed in February, is the increase of the head tax from $3 to $4, with the provision that all over $2,000,000 of the revenue derived shall revert to the United States Treasury instead of being entirely devoted to the use of the immigration bureau. Another change makes the steamship companies subject to a fine of $100 for the transportation of physically or mentally defective immigrants or those affected with badsmell or contagious disease. The law further provides for the deportation of women found to be leading immoral lives within three years after their arrival. The immigration officials are also empowered to arrest those who harbor women of this character and fines a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for five years for such offenses in the event of conviction.

But For Unsettled Damages.

Toronto, June 30.—Mrs. Annie McLintyre, of Toronto, Ont., issued a writ against the Cows Transit Co. of Ohio, claiming unpaid damages for the death of her sister, who was killed on one of the company's steamers, which sank in a collision, in which she was drowned.

Make Sure —of Success

AFTER spending all the time and money necessary to properly prepare the soil and after making the work of sowing, you cannot afford to take any chances on harvesting the crop.

The great element of safety and success in this work depends upon selecting the proper harvesting machine.

Taking everything into account, the McCormick binder will meet the most exacting requirements.

This is true not only because of the cutting and binding capacity of the machine, but also because of its easy draft, ease of handling, and its considerable strength and durability.

It is impossible in this small space to set forth the numerous features of the McCormick binder in detail.

Someone in every community has a McCormick binder. Buy a binder and you will have given better service than any other binder for ever owned.

Ask him if it has not given better service than any other binder for ever owned, and if it has not asked well in all kinds and conditions of grain.

It has been well said of the McCormick that "You see them wherever you go, and they go wherever you see them."

ONE WAY TO BUY A SAWMILL.

After the C.P.R. land deal the next large venture of the Fosterian "cult" was the acquisition of the British Columbia Lumber Co. Ltd. in 1935. Mr. Foster, on behalf of himself, Mr. Irwin and Mr. McCormick brought a proposition to the Union Trust Co. to jointly purchase certain limits and mill property in British Columbia. The proposal was that the Union Trust should buy the property and should turn it over to a new company to be formed in which Messrs. Foster, Irwin and McCormick should have 40 per cent. and the Union Trust 30 per cent. Eventually, whenever that might be, the three associates were to pay for their stock.

Mr. Foster claims that he was the out-and-out owner of the option on the property, and approached the Union Trust simply as a broker. Mr. Foster, however, says that Mr. Foster entered on the negotiations for the purchase of the property or on behalf of all "those who were expected to become interested," including presumably the Union Trust Company.

Whoever may be right Mr. Foster obtained from the agent, Mr. Peter Rynning, on January 25, 1934, two agreements, one of which was to be operative between Rynning and Foster, and selling the latter the property for $150,000; the other to be operative between Foster and the Union Trust Co., as the real bargain, proposed to sell him the same property for $225,000.

The deal went through as arranged. The Trust Co. paid Rynning the $225,000, and he related to Foster the $50,000 difference between the agreements, or the greater part of it. From this Foster paid Mr. Peter Rynning, and probably paid him $7,500. He paid Irwin $10,000 and McCormick $12,000. Steps were then taken to form the Kamloops Lumber Co., the shares being distributed as suggested in the original purchase.

While these negotiations were in progress, another property was offered to complete the estate of the company, known as the Okanagan Lumber Company's property. This had been bought by the Okanagan Co. for $40,000. At the end of 1933 a statement of assets and liabilities had been submitted to the shareholders showing assets $65,544.06, stock liabilities $50,000, other debts $11,028.51, leaving profit and loss account at $2,515.55.

This property, in which Foster, Irwin and McCormick were also interested, it was proposed to turn over to the Kamloops Co. at the moderate price of $15,000 and $42,000 for logs, or a total of $57,000. And this was what happened, the money being put up by the Union Trust Co. This was divided among Messrs. Foster, McCormick, Irwin, Hall and Beattie, in what proportion the Royal Commission did not discover.

Practically the plan worked out that Mr. Foster and his associates unloaded on the Union Trust Co. for $400,000 property which cost the former owners $210,000. The unloading process meant to a very considerable extent that they simply turned over their own property to the Union Trust at double its cost. The Union Trust put up the money for the whole proposition, but Mr. Foster and his associates retained 40 per cent. interest in the whole property, for which they were to accept the Union Trust some time in the future. Meantime the cash profit on the sale to the Union Trust was about equal to 40 per cent. of the whole transaction.

Accepting the statement of Mr. Foster that Mr. Foster was really representing the Union Trust Co. and the "others expected to be interested" in the new company, there are several points worthy of note in these transactions.

What business had Mr. Foster while acting as representative of the prospecting company in which they were to be jointly interested, to knock down $50,000 of the Union Trust Co.'s money, or to sell to the company a $40,000 property for $15,000?

Mr. Foster needed a portion of the $50,000 cash off. What was this for? Does it support the view that Mr. Foster did not know there was a rake, —And if he knew this what was his position in not conveying the information to the Union Trust? Was this the exercise of "forethought" and "care" in the handling of the funds committed to his keeping?

The "examiners" went out by the Union Trust Co. to look over the first property were none other than Messrs. McCormick and Irwin. Does it not seem remarkable that these gentlemen should have brought in a favorable report and recommended the purchase of the property? They had the chance to become shareholders in a company for which the Union Trust was putting up the money. Under such circumstances it would be difficult to imagine property so poor that it would not be to their interest to recommend its acquisition.

More than this, Irwin and McCormick, though sent out and paid by the Union Trust, also received $10,000 to $12,000 respectively from the rake off. Does this tend to the conclusion that they did not know there was to be a rake off provided the sale was made?

Even assuming that Mr. Foster knew nothing of the proposed rake off, was it a part of ordinary judgment to send out as "examiners" men who stood to become beneficiaries in a speculative enterprise at other people's expense provided they "examined" favorably?

STILL NUMBERED AMONG THE FAITHFUL.

Something of a sensation was created in the Orange Grand Lodge at Vancouver a few days ago when Rev. Mr. Walsh, Grand Chaplain, issued the wish possibility that Col. Samuel Hughes had been cut martined and drummed out of the opposition camp.

He stated that he had received a letter from a certain man, whose identity he did not divulge, which stated that Mr. R. L. Borden had called a caucus of Conservatives and had demanded that the Colonel withdraw from the Conservative party, or he (Mr. Borden) would give up his leadership.

Mr. Walsh explained that this reported action of Mr. Borden was as a direct consequence of the declaration of Colonel Hughes on the floor of the House of Commons, that French priests expelled from France would be a curse in Canada. Containing he said:

"If Mr. Borden did that he deserves to be put out of the leadership 'quicker than he can get out'."

Dr. Spruille came to the defence of Mr. Borden. He had been a member of the Conservative party himself for thirty years, and he could not therefore believe that the Colonel had been led for his attack on the priests. Colonel Hughes himself denied the report. He said:

"Mr. Borden was not paying attention to what was going on when I said that the expelled French priests were 'a curse to Canada in the true sense' of the term. Mr. Borden took me up on the floor of the House, and if there was no demand made upon me 'save that upon the floor of the House, my words were not retracted.' There is no truth in that letter that 'Mr. Borden asked a caucus or privately asked me to retract what is 'patent to everyone, that the expelled French priests are a curse to Canada.'"

This alleged the apprehensions and made it clear that Colonel Samuel is still numbered among the faithful and that his language stands.

WHEN SIR JOHN INVESTIGATED.

Toronto Globe: A Conservative paper says that Sir John Thompson insisted upon proceeding against persons charged with graft in the days of Conservative administration. Yes, after he Liberals in Parliament had proved the charges up to the hilt before the committees of Parliament. They did not continue themselves with knowledge about graft, but went practically and patiently to work to prove the accusations brought against ministers and dignitaries. Has this been done by their Conservative successors? It certainly has not. There is not a case about which the Opposition cry out "that would undo for a moment the investigations of a court," a yellow dog could not be convicted on any of the evidence that has been laid before committees.
